According to the IRS, you are required to keep records that will enable you to prepare a complete and accurate tax return. Although the law does not require any special form of records, you must retain all receipts, cancelled checks, bank statements and other evidence to support amounts claimed as deductions. You must keep your records for as long as their contents may be material in administering any Internal Revenue Law. In most instances, this means 3 years after the date of filing the return.
